ETHICAL PRACTICES

LABOR SAFETY FIRST!

The safety and well-being of our employees are paramount. At LeatherFair Industries, we enforce strict safety protocols within our manufacturing units to ensure a safe and productive environment. Our commitment to labor safety includes ongoing training programs and adherence to international safety standards.

NO CHILD LABOR

We take a firm stand against child labor and are fully compliant with international labor laws. At LeatherFair Industries, we ensure that no child labor is involved at any stage of our production process. Our workforce is composed of skilled adults who are compensated fairly and provided with safe working conditions.

ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSIBILITY

We are deeply committed to minimizing our environmental impact through sustainable practices in all aspects of our operations. From eco-friendly tanning processes to responsible waste management, we continuously work towards reducing our carbon footprint. By investing in green technologies and using ethically sourced materials, we ensure that our leather production is as environmentally conscious as it is high-quality.

GLOBAL REACH

LeatherFair Industries exports a diverse range of leather and textile products to over 25 countries, meeting the unique demands of each region. In North America, where most of our exports are directed, clients primarily seek finished leather and textiles for fashion and automotive industries. Our USA warehouse allows clients to visit and inspect the quality of our products firsthand, strengthening our presence in this key market. European clients focus on custom leather and textile goods for luxury markets, while in Asia, our products are widely used in furniture and apparel manufacturing. We also supply raw materials and finished products to various other regions. This global distribution reflects our ability to cater to varied industries and regional needs.
